

It was a pleasure working with the talented team at Indsys Computers to generate exterior renderings for Parkview on the Commons; a 4-storey, 88000 square foot residential building enclosing 44 condominiums and a floor of covered parking; located in Westborough, MA.

Project Manager acted as our contact and was quick to provide us with samples of their rendering capabilities and present us with an accurate timeline and cost for the work. They expertly guided us through the set up of a file transfer program and software enabling us to speak at length over the internet. We were provided with more than one digital draft for our review & comment and as a result we were able to add missing content, details & contextual information necessary for an effective rendering. Once the final images were approved & delivered, PM provided us with all the information necessary to pay our bill via wire transfer. In my opinion, Indsys Computers has the expertise and experience to deliver a competitive product and make the process of exchanging information over large distances a non-issue
